

About the Local History Museum

Children may be completely unfamiliar with the life and culture of mere decades ago. The Local History Museum unravels the past in ways that are easy to understand for children by introducing how people lived during the Showa 30s (mid-1950s to the mid-1960s).

The Museum also aims to help visitors deepen their understanding of the origin and the history of Toyoyama Town through the display of historical objects and materials that have been donated to the museum, as well as through videos and interactive items. We hope to convey the charms of Toyoyama Town, not only to the local residents but also to visitors from afar, where the old and new harmoniously coexist, and the bustle of the Nagoya Airport resonates with the local festival music.

The Formal and the Informal

Reproduced here are the formal and informal aspects of life in Toyoyama Town. See for yourself the differences in clothing, food and housing, depending on the formal festivities (the "hare" days) and the usual everyday (the "ke" days).

Life in Toyoyama

This section shows how farmers engaged in agriculture and in sericulture and straw work as side jobs in Toyoyama Town.

Showa-style Residence

Reproduced here is a typical residence during the Showa period with fondly-remembered items and materials. Visitors can step back in time and get a feel for what life was like for the people of those times.

Old and New Tales of Toyoyama

This section introduces the founding and the history of Toyoyama Town, as well as its cultural properties and festivals through easy-to-understand videos.

Seasonal Chronicle of Toyoyama

Through the lifestyle of a certain family, you will be able to see what a farmer's life is like through the four seasons. Here you will also be able to catch glimpses of the "secret stories" that have been handed down through generations in Toyoyama Town.
